To the FEC:

It is absolutely essential in the interest of the spirit of Democracy and free speech that all who desire to use the internet can do so in expressing their convictions and beliefs regarding issues effecting the public and political welfare of all.

Keep the internet untrammled and available for all regardless of ones political or social orientation. Full access to the internet without undue restrictions must remain as a First Amemdment forum for all as a rightful freedom that serves as part of the bedrock of Democracy.

Thank you
