1982 FEC ANNUAL REPORT NOW AVAILABLE

WASHINGTON -- Planning for the 1984 elections, a report on 1981-82 campaign finance activities, legislative recommendations to Congress and a general overview of the Federal Election Commission's actions during the past year are among topics included in the agency's 1982 Annual Report, which has just been made publicly available.

The FEC is required by law to make an annual report to the President and to each house of Congress, stating in detail its activities in carrying out its duties under the Federal Election Campaign Act.

Copies of the annual report are available from the Commission's Public Communications Office.
