THREE 1994 HOUSE CAMPAIGNS FAIL TO FILE APRIL QUARTERLY REPORT

WASHINGTON -- The Federal Election Commission today cited three 1994 U.S. House campaign committees for failure to file the required April Quarterly financial disclosure report covering activity for the first three months of 1994.

As of 5 p.m., April 29, 1994, disclosure reports from the following committees had not been filed:

CA/03...LARRY FOWLER FOR CONGRESS...MICHELE SIMPRINS, TREAS...LARRY FOWLER...REP
IN/02...TRAYLOR FOR CONGRESS...ALLEN TRAYLOR, TREAS...EDDIE K. TRAYLOR...REP
NC/02...NORMAN FOR CONGRESS...GLENDA FISHER TERRY, TREAS...LARRY E. NORMAN...REP

The report was due April 15, 1994, and should have included financial activity for the period January 1, 1994, or from the inception of the committee, through March 31, 1994. If sent by certified or registered mail, the report should have been postmarked by midnight April 15.

Committees were notified of their filing requirements on March 22. Those committees which did not file on the due date were notified on April 22 that reports had not been received and that their names would be published if they did not respond within four business days.

For this publication, the Commission has focused attention only on those campaigns with primaries during the second quarter of 1994. The Commission publishes only the names of those committees which have been designated by candidates as their principal campaign committees.

Other political committees supporting Senate and House candidates in elections (those which are not authorized units of a candidate's campaign) also are required to file quarterly reports, unless they report monthly. Those committees are not published by the FEC.

Further Commission action against non-filers and late filers is decided on a case-by-case basis. Federal law gives the FEC broad authority to initiate enforcement actions, including the imposition of civil penalties ($5,000 for "any violation" and $10,000 for any "knowing and willful" violation.)
