Page 7 Page 10 (1) Chairman Thompson. All right, sir. Thank you very [1] chronological order. [2] much, Mr. Stern. To the Bath-Quayle committees, and this was in the I will defer my questioning and turn to Senator Glenn. 1991-1992 period, there was about $21,000 of illegal [3] [3] [4] Senator Glenn. Thank you, Mr. Chairman. Just one contributions. [4] minute of comment here, and then I will turn this over to [5] To the RNC, there were actually two separate funds in (5 isj Senator Levin, today. the RNC, I believe. That is my recollection. In 1992, that (6) We are building a background of information that we totaled about $24,000. Ø 177 m) hope will lead to real campaign finance reform. One part of To the Joe Kennedy Committee, which I think technically (9) that process is the area of foreign money, and we are it was probably-I think it was called the Citizens for Joe 191 [10] looking into all examples of foreign money. This happens to Kennedy Committee-that occurred in 1993, and that was in [10] [11] be a case that has already been through the courts where we [11] the range of $6,000. [12] know what happened, but this can show us a lot as to how (12) And then, the Dole committees, and I believe it was the [13] these schemes work and how they are executed, and we (13) Dole for President Committee and then I think there was a (14) appreciate your being here. [14] compliance committee, a Dole Compliance Committee, that was Foreign money is one area. Tax-exempts, third-party in 1995, and that approximated $69,000. [15] ៅទោ Senator Levin. So the four figures, $21,000 into the Bush campaign, $24,000 to the RNC, $6,000 to the Joe Kennedy [16] transfers of money, soft money, all fit into this whole {16 pattern here, but I think your testimony today can be a [17] (17) [18] major help to us in this area in showing us how one of these campaign, and $69,000 to the Dole campaign in 1995 total [18] things work that has already been through the course, and we approximately how much? (tið) [19] appreciate having that on the Committee record here for Mr. Stern. Well, I think it is in the range of 120. I (20) have not done the math, Senator, but it is in the 120-to-123 [21] consideration at the end of the year. [21] I yield such time out of my 30 minutes as Senator Levin άZ 22 range, I think may feel he needs. Senator Levin. All right. About how many individuals 123 Senator Levin. Thank you. were used by Mr. Fireman in this scheme? 1246 [24] Thank you for being here today, Mr. Stern Mr. Stern. Well, you know, I meant this morning, 29 (25) Page 8 Page 11 (n) In your opening statement, I think it is very helping (1) believe it or not, to go back to the information and to add and lays out very concisely for us the history of this case, [2] them up because, in some cases, people were used more than and so I will just be asking you to flesh out some of the Once 3 a details. My best memory, it was in the range of 40 individuals, Can you get into some of the conduct that Mr. Fireman I think, but that is-you know, anybody, I suppose, could go 19 Ð in engaged in, in order to implement this scheme? How was it back and look. [7] implemented? We list, individual by individual, the conduits in the 177 Mr. Stern. Well, it, first of all, extended over a Dole campaign by person. We name who they are, and I would 10 period of some years, from 1991 to 1995. As I said, it have to go back and try to eliminate double-counting, but I 10 1 involved four different campaigns, and essentially, what was think about 40 is right. {1Ø [10] (11) happening was Mr. Fireman's money was being funneled through Senator Levin. Was Mr. Fireman, by the way, one of the [11] (12) conduits, straws, if you will, who purported, based upon vice chairs of the Finance Committee in the Dole campaign? [12] [13] filings made with the FEC, were, in fact, the true donors to Mr. Stern. I believe that is true. 113 [14] the campaigns, or in the case of the RNC, to the committee, Senator Levin. We have got an exhibit which summarizes [14] [15] when, in fact, it was not their money. It was money that these convictions of the two individuals and the corporation [15] in Exhibit No. 398, and it is up on that chart. I am [16] was owned or controlled by Mr. Fireman which had been paid [16] [17] back to them, basically, once they made their contribution. wondering if you can look at that chart. I do not know [17] Much of the money sat in a trust created in Hong Kong, whether copies could be made available for members and for [180 [16] (19) much earlier, in 1985, and I want to make clear that (19) the witness as well. [20] although the trust was created, so far as we know in 1985, Is that chart an accurate depiction of these 120 [21] the use of that at all for campaign purposes did not begin [21] convictions? Well, it is, with one qualification, which 122 Money from the Hong Kong trust, again, the trust is I said the 40 because I think that is about right. 23 [23] [24] Again, I have not compared name for name, but certainly, my [24] controlled by Mr. Fireman, was wire-transferred to a bank in [25] Boston. I guess I distributed to conduits [2] [2] do want to say that although Mr. Fireman pled guilty in Senator Levin. Could you be a little more precise as 13 October of 1996 and Carol Nichols-as did the company-and [4] to how that distribution took place? How were those checks [4] Carol Nichols pled guilty on November 4, 1996, the criminal obtained from those people? How many people were involved (5) (51 in the campaigns, approximately? How were they reimbursed charges themselves were brought in early July, at which time (6) [6] by Fireman for their checks? we made public and filed with the court the respective plea M 17 agreements. Mr. Stern. Well, by and large, they were reimbursed in [1] cash, and again, I want to be careful not to go outside of There was a prompt hearing sometime, I believe, in (10) the public record, either court filings or statements made [10] July, end of July before Judge Young, Federal District Court. So that, the pleas were tendered as early as July. Yes, that is correct. which went to each of the four campaigns? [23] [23] Mr. Stern. Well, I am going to give you a very good [24] Senator Levin. Was that money that you believe was [24] [25] approximation, Senator, and this is pretty much in [25] earned abroad?

Page 13 Page 16 Mr. Stern Well, again, I am not going to-Senator, (1] establish that the bulk of the straws, the conduits, were [1] with all due respect, I do not want to go outside of the [2] either working at Aqua-Leisure or were known to people at [2] [3] public record. Aqua-Leisure. (31 What we have said in the charging document and in Secondly, early on, to its credit, both Mr. Fireman and (4) [4] [5] court, it was money that was either owned by or controlled the company indicated a willingness to acknowledge their [5] [6] by Mr. Fireman. It was basically Mr. Fireman's money, and I criminal responsibility, and early on, there were plea [6] should say that Aqua-Leisure at that time, I believe, was discussions, and probably, more than anything else, as Mr. m [8] 100-percent owned by Mr. Fireman. Fireman's lawyer said at the sentencing hearing, that drove (SI I believe at some point perhaps during this period, but (9) (9) the timing. [10] certainly now, it is owned, 85 percent, by Mr. Fireman, and 110 It makes a big difference, obviously, when defendants [11] 15 percent of the stick is held in trust for one of his [11] are prepared to step up to the plate, own up to their responsibility and to plead guilty. [12] SOILS. 1121 Senator Levin. Why was money wired in from Hong Kong Senator Levin. On July 11th, the New York Times [13] [13] [14] and then distributed rather than just his using his wholly [14] reported you as saying that a 6-month prison term for Mr. [15] owned domestic corporation for that purpose? [15] Fireman was warranted, and here, they are quoting you in Mr. Stern. I do not have the answer to that, Senator. [16] part, "because of the elaborate lengths to which Mr. Fireman [16] Senator Levin. Do you know whether or not if he had had gone to keep his scheme from being traced, steps that (17) [17] been charged-excuse me-whether or not this transfer of irs included wiring from Hong Kong, the money that was to be [18] [19] money from Hong Kong and then its distribution in the way ing distributed in cash, to participating employees. Can you tell us what elaborate lengths you referred to? you have described violates the prohibition on the use of (20) [20] [21] foreign money? [21] Mr. Stern. Well, I really meant nothing more than, Mr. Stern. All I can say in response to that, Senator, [22] perhaps as your earlier question, Senator, suggested, which [22] [23] is he was not charged with that, and I leave to others, I [23] is this was not money which came from your neighborhood (24) suppose in particular to the Committee, to the extent that [24] bank, where you walk down the street and make a withdrawal; [25] it is relevant to the Committee's determination, to make its [25] that initially, the money came, albeit from a trust Page 14 Page 17 (1) own legal judgment. All I can say is that he was not (1) controlled by Mr. Fireman, from Hong Kong, and certainly, at least initially, it presented separate issues and problems [2] charged with that. [2] Senator Levin. How was this case uncovered? Can you [3] for investigations in being able to trace back the money. [3] (a) give us the background on this? We were able to overcome that, clearly, but that is Mr. Stern. Well, the background is actually relatively really what I had in mind, coupled with the fact that this [5] (5) [6] straightforward. We became aware of it first as a result of was a scheme which existed over some 4 years that involved 161 four different and separate campaigns and involved many, an article in the Kansas City newspaper. I think it is the D m 181 Kansas City Star. (8) many conduits. Senator Levin. Did that article publicly set forth a Senator Levin. You said before that Mr. Fireman was [10] pattern of multiple contributions from Aqua-Leisure not charged with the use of foreign funds in a campaign or (10] [11] employees and family members, including $1,000 contributions giving foreign funds to candidates. Did you determine that [11] [12] from secretaries and a warehouse manager? Do you remember there were no foreign funds, or did you decide not to pursue [12] that issue since you already had clearly illegal [13] that? [13] Mr. Stern. I do remember the general contours of the contributions made in the name of another [14] [14] Mr. Stern. All I can do, Senator, with all due [15] article, and, you know, as in any instance where a criminal េទា (inj investigation is on the heels of a newspaper article, our respect, is repeat that we determine that the ownership and [16] source-the ownership of the funds was Mr. Fireman, as an 117] task is not to determine whether each particular fact in the [17] [18] article is accurate. Once we commence an investigation, we American citizen and an American businessman, and that we [18] [19] obviously make our own determination and have our own tools did not charge him. There were no charges of the company or [19] of Mr. Fireman, which related to contributions by foreign [20] available, but I certainly made reference, as I recall, to (20) [21] the contours of the scheme and certainly initially pointed [21] cntities [22] us in the direction of the FEC and publicly available Senator Levin. Is the reason you are not able to say 22 there was a determination relative to the source of the documents at the FEC. [23] [23] Senator Levin. If we could put Exhibit 401 on the [24] funds because that would go beyond the public record? (24) Mr. Stern. Yes, that is correct, Senator. [25] SCICCA (25) Page 15 Page 18 This is a copy of the April 1996 story by the Kansas [1] Senator Levin, All right. On page 7 of the [1] [2] City Star. Is this the article? The [8] [8] (9) employees and families sending the Dole campaign 40 indictment says that the trust was formed in Hong Kong, and 191 [10] individual checks totalling $40,000? Is that what this 1101 it uses the phrase "Rickwood, Ltd." [11] article says in paragraph 2? Mr. Stern. Uh-huh. [Nodding head up and down.] [11] Mr. Stern. It does say that, Senator, right. (9) 191 [10] Chairman Thompson. Yes. [11] Senator Durbin. Have we publicly disclosed the names [17] of all the individuals who were granted immunity the other [13] day, the five-Chairman Thompson. No, we did not. (14) [15] Senator Durbin. We have not disclosed those? (15) [15] Chairman Thompson, No. 116 [17] Senator Durbin. Thank you. [14] I would like to ask-thank you, Mr. Stern, for being ing here. The Chairman described this case in his remarks as, 20 quote, "fairly typical," close quote, in terms of gn laundering. But I hope it is not fairly typical and I hope 1221 that laundering is an exception rather than a rule. I would like, if you would, if you could explore your 231 231 [24] statement, Mr. Stern, about how difficult these cases are to investigate and prosecute. Wherein lies the difficulty? Page 44 Mr. Stern. Well, first off, I'm not sure in my 'n [1] in experience I've found any of these cases typical of by anything. I mean, each case sort of stands on its own facts [3] (4) and each case has its twists and turns and peculiarities, so is I'm not sure there's anything particular about a particular - (6) Case You know, as I said before, these are conspiracies, m m w) typically, and frankly it's not peculiar to campaign finance py violations. It applies to other white collar cases, in (io) general, intended by design to be committed in secret. If [11] someone goes into a bank and robbed a bank, we may not know [12] who they are, but the crime has been committed. It's there [12] [13] for the public to see. People know about it. The first task in investigating any kind of case like [14] (15) this is first determining whether there has been a crime, (:s] prosecuted. [16] and then, of course, you have to find out who, if anyone, [16] [17] has committed a crime. So they're complicated and they can [18] be resource-intense. This one, as I said, came together wrongdoing. I am hoping that-(16) (19) fairly quickly, at least in part because of the cooperation (19) [20] of the defendants. That helps a lot when a defendant is (205 [21] willing to plead guilty, but they can be-they can be [21] granted immunity. (22) complicated. (22) Senator Durbin. Now, in this case it appears to be Mr. Stern. I see, yes. (23) [23] [24] something other than a garden-variety laundering case where [25] some American citizen might, in his exuberance to support a Page 45 (1) candidate, decide to give money to another person to contribute in their name, at least complicated by the fact [2] that we are dealing with a Hong Kong trust created by Mr. (3) (4) Fireman-[4] Mr. Stern. That's correct. (5) 151 [6] Senator Durbin. - and transfers of funds from overseas to the United States. And that really is what this first n 177 phase of the hearing is supposed to be all about, the (0) (9) involvement of foreign money illegally or improperty into [10] our process, and that appears to be a very poignant fact in [11] this case, the way Mr. Fireman set up this elaborate scheme [12] to bring in $120,000 over 5 years for a variety of [13] candidates, mainly Republican, but even some Democrats. [12] [13] What I am driving at is this. We have had [14] [14] [15] representatives now sit at that table from the Democratic important. ពទា National Committee and yesterday the former chairman of the S169 [16] Republican National Committee talk about their efforts in [17] (14) receiving funds to determine whether or not they are legal, [16] (19) and they have many times bragged about their abilities to [20] determine them as to their legality and at other times (191 (201 [21] apologized because they weren't as good as they should be. [22] The point I am trying to get to is this. There you sit [23] in a prosecutor's role, with extraordinary authority, and 22

Page 46 [1] has been broken. I will say this and you can accept it for [2] a fact. Those of us who are in the political business don't [3] have your resources at our disposal. We receive checks with [4] a very scant disclosure of the identity and occupation of is the contributor and we don't even inquire as a matter of course as to the source of these funds unless there is something suspicious that comes to mind. I think it raises questions that maybe Senator

Lieberman alluded to that perhaps the Department of Justice [10] and maybe you personally could be helpful to this Committee [11] in suggesting ways of amending our disclosure forms that [12] might at least raise some suspicion where it should be [13] raised when these contributions are made. And as a [14] consequence, I hope that this hearing doesn't result just in investigating, but also in legislating.

I would like to talk to you a moment about the immunity [17] question because this is one that we struggle with, and [14] since you are here today I don't know if you want to be case is in the role as an expert on the question, but I agree with [20] Senator Lieberman. I think that one of the persons who was [21] immunized by this Committee this week really falls right [22] into the same category as Carol Nichols did in the Fireman case, and that is why I didn't join the majority of the [24] Committee on that one particular request for immunity and, 29 with Senator Akaka and Senator Lieberman, voted against it.

I would like you to just, if you could, give me your [2] feelings. What would have been the impact in this prosecution if Carol Nichols had received immunity by this Committee prior to any active investigation and prosecution is by the U.S. attorney's office?

Mr. Stern. I don't have anything to be helpful to the Committee with respect to the granting of congressional immunity and what impact that has on potential future (9) criminal prosecutions. I just-I just haven't faced it in (10) my private practice of now as U.S. attorney. I can say that [11] if we had decided to grant Ms. Nichols immunity, then she would not have been prosecuted, obviously. And, in my [13] judgment, an individual who had some criminal culpability, [14] albeit not as serious as Mr. Fireman, would not have been

Senator Durbin. That is clear and understood that she [17] may not have paid a price that she should have paid for

Mr. Stern. I think-I think-I think Ms. Nichols paid the price that was appropriate in-

Senator Durbin. No, but I am saying had she been

[24] Senator Durbin. Now, the point I am trying to get to 25 is beyond that, and forget the fact if you can for a moment

(1) that you are here before the Senate under oath and talking 2 about congressional immunity. But in this type of case when you were trying to construct a prosecution, if you have a witness like Ms. Nichols who is given immunity in the case, how does that make your life more difficult, or does it make it more difficult as prosecutor? Mr. Stern. You know, again, I don't want to, if I can, not refer to Carol Nichols, in particular, and perhaps of answer the question more generally. Judgments are-these (10) are dicey judgments, critical judgments, very important [11] judgments that get made in virtually every case, and you worry about-I'll be honest with you-the grant-the premature granting of immunity before you know the facts, before the full texture and context of the case becomes

A witness comes in and says, I'll only talk to you if [17] you give me immunity. You need to be careful about that judgment because, again, I'm not referring, Mr. Chairman, to

- congressional immunity and what impact, if any, that has.
- But a Federal prosecutor, either by letter immunity or
- [21] court-granted immunity, essentially gives someone a pass
- from criminal prosecution. That's a serious decision,
- that's a serious judgment. 23

Senator Durbin. Is the prospect or possibility of [24] 25 immunity-I think I know the answer to this, but I am going

Well, it's the kind of answer you'll get (10) I think these are all things that you are adding to our [10] [11] from a prosecutor, un [11] background of information on. We appreciate very much you Senator Glenn. Yes. Well, no, all right. That is [12] being here this morning. [12] [13] fair enough. I am just pointing out how insidious this is I will yield the rest of my time to Senator Akaka. I (13) [14] in our whole system. I might add one other item to this, [14] think he had a question he wanted to ask. [15] too. You have prosecuted both Democrats and Republicans Senator Akaka. Thank you very much. I have a remark (15 (18) One of the prominent examples was one of my close friends [16] to make and a question to Mr. Stern. 117) and a friend of many of us here, Senator Paul Tsongas, when Thank you for being here. After hearing Senator (17) tin his fund-raising chief, I believe, was prosecuted. [18] Durbin, I want to say that I agree with him that there are And Paul Tsongas, who was as fine a man as has ever (191 similarities between the level of involvement of Carol 19 come to Washington, in my opinion, had no knowledge of that, Nichols and at least one of the individuals for whom the 201 [20] [21] and that fits in with the points about these other four Committee granted immunity this week. So when these have been alluded to, there was no My question to you, Mr. Stern, is-you stated that the 24 221 intention here whatsoever to point across party lines and [23] Department of Justice does not prosecute mere conduits, and 22 [24] say that one party does it and the other doesn't. [24] my question to you is: What factors brought Carol Nichols The important thing here is that under existing law, [25] to prosecution? Page 59 Page 56 (1) this is illegal, and so a lot of people are going to say, Mr. Stern. I'm sorry. I missed the beginning. {t] gi well, if we just enforce the law, then that takes care; we [2] Senator Akaka. What factors brought Carol Nichols to prosecution? don't need any campaign finance reform. What I hope we are [4] adding to by you being here and by pointing out what Mr. Stern. Well, she was an active, I would say [4] m happened in this case that has been successfully prosecuted indispensable part of the conspiracy. She was the one who in is the fact that here we had foreign money coming in. We is in some cases withdrew money from the Boston bank in cash m had third-party transfers of money, which are two of the and handed out cash payments, essentially reimbursement to M in areas that I have continually stressed we should be dealing is those people who were straw donors. So she wasn't herself-P, with, in addition to tax-exempt misuse and soft money and maybe-I can't even remember, Senator, whether she may (10) have served at least in one or two instances as a straw jig misuse, as the four points that I hope we are able to get [11] into over the course of the next few months. (1) herself, but that's part of the example. She may have been [12] a straw with respect to perhaps one \$1,000 payment, as well [13] as perhaps members of her family. But her criminal And here in this one case, we had two of those (12] [13] elements-foreign money and third-party transfers, and [14] contributions disguised so that campaigns filed further [14] culpability, in our judgment-and she pled guilty to it-[15] false reports with the FEC unknowingly. Is this analogous (15) extended well beyond that. [16] to the Buddhist temple situation? I don't know, but we are Senator Akaka, Thank you, Mr. Chairman ពស (17) sure going to find out. And is it analogous in that did the [17] Chairman Thompson. Thank you very much. [14] campaigns know about this? I don't know, but we are going [18] Just one brief comment. I think the point is well made [19] to find out. And I don't know whether they will wind up as [19] that these things are hard to catch up with. There is probably not anybody here that hasn't inadvertently taken an [20] similar cases or not. I have no idea at this point. But to come back to my first point, I think, obviously, [21] improper donation of some kind. But I think that what has [21] 122 changed now is this whole soft money situation. It is one 123 thing to try to catch a \$1,000 donation, but it something [22] we have to deal with illegalities, but if we are not to 22 correct the system that breeds those illegalities by looking [23] (24) else again when you are dealing with \$100,000 or \$200,000, [24] into these four areas of tax-exempts and soft money and [25] foreign money and third-party transfers, then we will not [25] and you are dealing with an individual who has already Page 57 [1] proven themselves to be untrustworthy. And that is what we (1] have done our job. And I don't know the answer to this. What is needed? 2 are dealing with in this investigation. 21 What needs to be changed? Do we need tougher penalties? I So I don't think we can just say that these things are 131 tough to catch up with and we can't follow them. I think don't know. Would that stop anything or are our laws adequate? Do we need change in reporting at either the that used to be the case more than it is now, but with these (5) local level or the campaign level, or do we need somebody (s) tremendously large sums of money coming in in the soft money (6) monitoring campaigns closer from outside the campaigns as situation to both parties, then I think it is incumbent on М n i us to be even more careful. they are in progress to try and ferret out some of these [0] 181 things? Or do we need the internal reporting of campaigns Senator Bennett? Senator Bennett, Thank you, Mr. Chairman. I don't [10] more available to the press? That is a big one to take on 101 (11) want to prolong this because I think this one has been (11) around here, I will tell you that. Do we need changes in FEC procedures or changes in what [12] examined about as much as it needs to be. But I can't help [12] [13] but reflect the comment that Senator Glenn. He said this [13] availability there might be of bank accounts to monitor [14] political contributions and expenditures, more reporting [15] carlier on? I don't know. These are all things that I [14] was not turned up as a result of opposition research. It (15 was an enterprising reporter. Just for my historic curiosity, I would like to know ing think we should be thinking about and that I hope we are [16] [17] why an enterprising report from the Kansas City Star is the [17] building an information base on through this year to maybe take some action on in real, meaningful campaign finance 110) one who uncovered activity in the State of Massachusetts. I don't know. I can-you know, it may be 22 that-you know, the article quotes, in some cases by name [24] and in some cases not by name, people, you know, straw [25] donors. I can't speculate as to why those donors might have 25 things. And just to say that existing laws are Now, did I read that accurately? [11] settled. [11] Mr. Baron. And I believe the evidence is that Young [12] Mr. Richards. Yes. [12] (13) Brothers (USA) received a check in the amount of [13] Mr. Baron. Is that stillapproximately \$750,000. I could be off by a little bit, but [14] Mr. Richards. But I think, Mr. Baron, some members of [14] [15] the Committee are going to be confused about the \$120,000 [15] that's about right? (15] that happened before. This was a-this was a contribution Mr. Richards. Yes. The balance on the loan was [16] [17] roughly a million and a half, and it was sort of divided 117 to the Team 100 solicited from Mr. Young by Mr. Alec down the middle. [18] Courtelis clear back in 1991 or some-1991 or 1992. And he [18] Mr. Baron. Right. You were quoted in, I believe, the [19] asked Mr. Young to join the Team 100, which he did, and [19] Boston press, after the story broke, that in your opinion [20] because the money came from a corporation, he couldn't put [20] (21) that in an election fund, and so they put it in the [21] the RNC should give-at that point, I believe you used the [22] number \$500,000, but I think you were referring to the [22] Republican National Committee State Election Fund and the [23] State Florida account. Courtelis lived in Florida, so he [23] amount of money that Young Brothers had lost, that it ought [24] to be given back. Do you recall that? [24] got a little bit for his folks out of that contribution. Mr. Richards. Yes. Mr. Baron. Right. I appreciate your adding that. I 52 [25] Page 81 Page 84 (1) Mr. Baron. And did you make that statement to the (1) think the Committee has heard evidence about those earlier (z) contributions. [Z] press? Mr. Richards. Yes. I still think they ought to give And is it still your position that the honorable thing [3] [4] it back. [4] to do-and I will tell you, since you were still on your way back from Alaska, that Chairman Thompson also raised the Mr. Baron. I don't want to leave out part of it. I want [15] back to the forum after the fact. So we were-we were (18) certain that the money would be repaid (16) to put it in context. I did not think there was any risk in this loan. (17) The question to you at line 7 on page 81: "You were (17) [18] quoted in a news article in the Boston Globe that in your (18) Mr. Baron. Did you understand at the time this loan 19 guarantee was made that the National Policy Forum, that [19] view the RNC should pay back, I think the figure was used, [20] their status for those purposes was a 501(c)(4)-[20] the \$500,000 that had been lost as a result. As we now know [21] it was closer to over 700,000. Was that an accurate quote?" (21) Mr. Richards. Yes. And your answer was: "Yes. The writer of the story [27] Mr. Baron. -entity under the tax laws? 22 [23] talked about the 500,000 and I didn't correct him because I [23] Mr. Richards. Yes. [24] wasn't sure what it was. Page 109 Page 112 [1] Senator Durbin, Mr. Richards, the reason, obviously, Senator Durbin. Clearly, someone at the Republican [1] [2] National Committee thought otherwise. [2] that I raise this is, after Mr. Barbour's testimony yesterday, he virtually dismissed this money and said it was Mr. Richards. They got spooked and probably by the [3] [3] not necessary, we were flushing our account in terms of soft press and said, hey, let's do it. [4] [4] money, and people who were suggesting that we were hurrying There have been hundreds of members of Congress and [5] 151 (6) this through to have money to pass through to State (61 Senators that have given back money that came from a source [7] organizations, soft money contributions have exaggerated that they were spooked a little bit about. If you are  $\overline{n}$ this spooked, give it back. (8) [8] What you have told us today suggests a different Senator Durbin. You think it may be more because of (9) [9] [10] approach for Mr. Barbour. 1011 appearance-Mr. Richards. If we thought they were flush with Mr. Richards. Absolutely, appearance. Well, as we have analyzed the contributions were illegal, but appearance is not good. [14] (14) Senator Durbin. Can we speak to this issue of [15] balances in these accounts, particularly this one Republican ខែទោ [16] account, soft money account that went into State election appearance? And I think in Mr. Barbour's words yesterday, [16] [17] campaigns, it turns out that their actual cash balance was he said, "In politics, perception is reality," and I have (17) in the \$713,000 range, and with this loan guarantee, freeing [18] heard that said many times. No. Did you ever have a conversation with Mr. Barbour about [4] (4) Senator Durbin. And the money that was invested by the fact that Mr. Young had renounced his U.S. citizenship? [5] [5] (8) Young Brothers (Hong Kong) into this effort was ultimately Mr. Richards. No, no. I did not. (61 Senator Durbin. It never came up? [7] refunded back to Hong Kong? n Mr. Richards. Yes. So the money was sent back to Hong Kong, but one of the [18] [18] [19] biggest elements that was not sent back was the money And his interest at the time appeared to me to be (19] contributed to the Republican National Committeeunification, a reunification of China and the People's (201 1201 Republic. It has been characterized wanted to that fund. [5] [5] in various ways, and maybe you can help us understand it. Senator Durbin. Even foreign money? (6) [6] Mr. Richards. Sure. That is a State election, and if At one point, Mr. Becker, who was one of the first n Ø witnesses, said that he was a fierce champion-I think I there is a State law that prohibits it, maybe, but there is (8) (8) certainly no Federal law that does so. paraphrase this correctly-fierce champion of capitalism, 191 191 but he went on to say that all this talk about publishing an (10) So I saw nothing wrong with that, and then Courtelis, [10] [11] being a good Floridian, said, well, look, let's take 25 of [11] article in Commonsense and the like really was not his idea [12] that and give it to the State party in Florida. So that was [12] and really was not something that he was that enthused (13) given to the State party, and there is nothing wrong with [13] about. Do you have another opinion on this? [14] that, and when the Committee looked at this and said, oh, (14] This would be my last question, Mr. Chairman. [15] gee, we took some Hong Kong money, and if we knew this was Do you have another opinion on this? [15] Mr. Richards. Well, I think at the luncheon or the (16) Hong Kong, we would not have taken it, so let's give it [16] dinner that we had here, someone from the Forum suggested to (17) back, they turned around and gave it back to us. I say, [17] (19) well, if they are going to do that, then what about this (19) other Hong Kong money that-you know, if this is tainted (20) over here, then is this not tainted or doesn't it give you (18) him, would you not like to write something about this, put [19] it in Commonsense, and he liked the idea and agreed to do (20) that. Thank you, Mr. Chairman. 101 Senator Bennett. Thank you, Mr. Chairman [10] Mr. Chairman, I sort of wanted to sum up the last \*t01 [11] I now know as much about the National Policy Forum as I (11) couple of days here, the last 3 days. We have had now five ing ever want to know, and probably a little more. I will not people under oath who have given their statements. Mr. [12] (13) repeat my summary of what I think it was and is, at least Volcansek told us that Mr. Barbour-he told Mr. Barbour that [139 [14] not here. Maybe over the weekend when Senator Durbin and I the money was of Hong Kong origin, and that was prior to the 1141 [15] are back again on television, I will have occasion to repeat time when the loan was consummated. 1151 We have Mr. Young's deposition which says he talked to (16) that. (17) I have only one issue I would like to clear up with Mr. 117 Mr. Barbour on two occasions about it being Hong Kong money (in) Richards, and by the way, Dick, I am delighted to see you. (19) that would be used, once at dinner here in Washington in ng As I have told some of my colleagues, you and I began our 119 August of 1994 and then the summer of 1995 in Hong Kong on serious political careers together in the 1962 Bennett for the boat when Mr. Barbour asked forgiveness for the money 1201 (21) and Mr. Young said no because it was Hong Kong money and [21] Senate campaign, and lest people think that I am really old, that was my father's campaign. subject to Hong Kong law. 22 221 We must have done fairly well, because Dad trailed in Mr. Richards has testified today here about his [25] 1231 (24) every single poll taken throughout that campaign, except the (24) knowledge of the funds being transferred, and I will not [25] last one, and we pulled out a victory. So we go back a long [25] reiterate all of that once again. Page 116 Page 119 Mr. Becker said that he told the RNC general counsel it (i) way. You have said that Haley said to you his concern was he [2] was Hong Kong money, even though it was coming through the 121 p) had to get hard dollars out of the NPF and get them replaced (3) Ambrous Young corporation here, Ambrous Young Development with soft dollars, and Senator Durbin has raised that, 64 [4] here appropriately. Mr. Barbour, all the way through, has said it does not (5) Haley said yesterday that the dollars that went in the make any difference whether it was or not. It was academic [6] [7] first instance to the NPF were, in fact, soft dollars. They because these are 501(c)(4)-it was a 501(c)(4) m came out of soft dollars, and they went into a soft dollar organization, and he emphasized that over and over again 782 [8] m fund. So that is an area of conflict between the two of yesterday, but it is difficult to buy that, I must say Ø [10] because Mr. Baroody, who was the president of the NPF, [10] you. Are you in any position to clear that up and get it [11] served a year in that position and resigned as president [11] resolved for us, one way or the other? because of the lack of separation between the NPF and the [12] [12] Mr. Richards. No, sir, I am not. [13] RNC. He said it was a fiction of separation, and he said [13] Senator Bennett. You do not know where the funds came (14) that Mr. Barbour, in his words, said it was a fascination [14] [15] with foreign money and said that the NPF and the RNC-the [15] from that went to NPF? [16] employees felt it was run like a division of RNC. That was Mr. Richards. As a matter of fact, I did not even know [16] [17] about the NPF until Haley Barbour called me on the telephone [17] shared by staff, according to him. The Baroody concerns that he resigned over was because, [18] just and told me of the circumstance. So that was my first [19] introduction to the Policy Forum. 119] in effect, he said, they were not operating in accordance [20] with the law, in accordance with the 501(c)(4) charter that Senator Bennett. And the dollars that went back from (20) [21] he thought they should be operating under, and he felt so [21] the NPF to the RNC as a result of the loan guarantee, you do (22) not know the account into which they went? strongly about it, that the violations were so great, that 22 he wrote a letter, and he resigned and gave that as his (23) Mr. Richards. I do not know. However, I heard that [23] [24] the Republican National Committee gave money to the Forum, [24] major reason for resigning. Now, that was not just all fictitious because the [25] and the Forum in turn paid it to the bank on the few [25] Page 120 Page 117 [1] installments that were made. I do not know whether that is (1) 501(c)(4) that had been applied for was being considered along, as these things drag out sometimes with the IRS and (21 true or not Senator Bennett. Yes, but in terms of the money that being considered. The organization could operate as a 139 131 501(c)(4), but what Mr. Baroody resigned over was it was not was released as a result of the loan guarantee coming back [4] being operated as a 501(c)(4). - a) matter whose party happens to be in control of the executive

- (4) branch. These are very, very serious matters of serious
- (5) criminal allegations that go to the basic integrity of our
   (8) Government.
- [7] So I join with Senator Glenn in saying that, hopefully,
- as at the end of the day, we can look at a systematic
- [9] resolution of this thing and understand that these serious
- [10] matters are a part of a system that at the end of the day I
- [11] think needs to be scrutinized again, but, number one, if we [12] in any way give short shrift to our major focus here in the
- [13] first phase of this inquiry, then, of course, it is going to
- [14] ironically wind up defeating calls for campaign finance
- [15] reform because it will only be looked at as a partisan cry
- [16] and will never rally anyone else around it besides the
- [17] relatively few, quite frankly, that are rallying around it
- [10] right now. We need to expand our numbers. We need to reach [19] out to each other across the aisle and not try to drive the
- poj wedge even deeper.

[21] I have my own problems with some of the things with Mr. [22] Barbour, who I think did a great job as chairman of the [23] party, but we have got some differences on a couple of [24] things. For those who are concerned about someone being [25] tried in absentia, I do not know anybody who was tried in

- [1] absentia more than Haley Barbour, and now he was called [2] Thursday instead of Friday and we have another witness and we have a summation against Mr. Barbour, and he is not here (4) to defend himself. So I am cast in the role here of [5] pointing out these things that someone has got to point out. Senator Glenn makes. I think, some very valid points in - 861 g terms of inconsistencies in terms of the testimony, but it (a) must also be said that Mr. Scott Reed, who was on our my witness list, who was not called, says-in some detail 10 points out-his characterization would be that the monies [11] that were paid back to the RNSEC, RNC account, did not go [12] into campaigns. That is a big issue here. I do not know (13) why he was called, but in all fairness, he sent us a [14] statement, and when his statement arrived, he was not [15] called. I think, in all fairness, it should be pointed out (161 [17] again that Mr. Denning in his deposition said that his [18] recollection was not the same as Mr. Volcansek; that is,
- [19] that he did not remember a conversation about Hong Kong [20] being the origin of the funds, and that is what Mr. Barbour [21] said.
- [22] So we can have these things back and forth and back and [23] forth. What concerns me is our attitude towards one [24] another. We had a rather acrimonious session yesterday, and [25] that is regrettable, but I would hope as we go forward that

[1] we could try to do it together and not try to put the worst [7] possible cast on the other party's witness and justify (3) anything and everything that our own party's witnesses come [4] up with, and just try to call them as we see them, as we go [5] along, and then, at the end of the day, the mood will be (6) such that, hopefully, we can together agree to have some 17] reforms, but if we are at each other all the time, we will (a) never find out the facts and we will never have any reforms. That is all [ have [10] Senator Glenn. Mr. Chairman? [11] Chairman Thompson. Senator Glenn? [12] Senator Glenn. Mr. Chairman, just a comment. We were (13) allocated 3 days for the hearings, and we have certainly [14] filled up our 3 days with witnesses. We did not have time [15] to put everybody on. There was no deceitful purpose in not [16] bringing some of the witnesses on that we had thought we [17] might be able to use, but we filled up our 3 days. I just wondered what our schedule is for next week and [18] [19] what the subject will be and who our witnesses may be so we [20] can prepare for it. Chairman Thompson. Well, Senator Glenn, we did not [21]

[22] know, until about 30 minutes before our hearing today,
 [23] exactly who was going to be called here. We will get that
 [24] to you in a timely fashion, but it will not be right at this [25] moment, and we will come back at 10 o'clock, next Tuesday.

- [1] Senator Glenn. Okay, fine.
- 2) Chairman Thompson. Thank you very much.
- [3] Mr. Richards, thank you very much for being here.
- [4] We will recess. Our next public session will be at 10
- [5] o'clock on Tuesday.
- [6] [Whereupon, at 2:25 p.m., the Committee was recessed,
- [7] to reconvene at 10:00 a.m., Tuesday, July 29, 1997.]

Following is a disbursement plan for our $2,100,000 loan.

1) As agreed, we will be using $500,000 to pay all our outstanding bills and retain the difference for working capital purposes. Our checking account number is 667-0065025.

2) The remaining $1,600,000 will be used to retire loans from the RNC: However, they would like to receive payment on October 20, 1994. We would like to hold those funds in our savings account until the 20th. Our savings account number is

If you would prefer to transfer whole $2,100,000 to our checking account, we will make the transfer to savings ourselves. Please do not hesitate to call if you have any questions.

We have considered your application for recognition of exemption from federal income tax under section 501(a) of the Internal Revenue Code as an organization described in section 501(c)(4). Based on the information submitted, we have concluded that you do not qualify for exemption under that section. The basis for our conclusion is set forth below.

The information submitted indicates that you were incorporated on May 24, 1993 under the non-profit corporation laws of the District of Columbia. In your Articles of Incorporation, you describe your purposes as follows:

> (t]o encourage the involvement of citizens in free and opendebate, the public exchange and development of ideas, discussions, dialogues, conferences, and discourses, to promote public forums, seminars and colloquia and information dissemination to the general populace, to develop a national Republican policy acenda and to serve as a clearinghouse for the collection and review of research and ideas on issues affecting foreign affairs, national security, economy, environment, energy, government lands, commerce, labor, federal budget, . . . and other issues of concern to or affecting the citizens of the United States of America (emphasis added).

As stated in your newsletter, Ideas Matter (May 1995 Issue), you are "[a] Republican Center for the Exchange of Ideas." "That exchange will be open and inclusive -- not exclusively for Republicans but an exchange that invites serious commentary from Democrats, Independents, and the heretofore apolitical as well[,]" according to your publication, Common Sense (Volume 1, Winter 1994, Number 1).__You were founded, according to your brochure and prospectus, on three premises, 1) "that fundamentally, ideas make the difference in politics," 2) "that traditionally, ideas that make a difference have been associated with political parties," 3) "that currently, workable ideas are more likely to be found at the grassroots than in Washington."

Your organization, as described in your news release of December 8, 1993, "is composed of civic, community and business leaders, Republican elected officials, former office-holders, and other prominent Americans from all walks of life." You are not a membership organization, but your bylaws perrit the board of directors to create classes of "membership" - contributing membership and honorary membership. These memberships do not carry voting rights or other organizational rights.

Your bylaws provide that a board of directors governs and directs your operations. The board of directors is invested with the power to appoint or remove board members. The initial board of directors included Mr. Haley Barbour, the former chairman of the Republican National Committee, the political arm of the Republican Party. The information in our administrative files shows that your board members include Mr. Barbour and other prominent Republican Party members, including Senator Nickles of Oklahoma, former Republican Minority House Leader Bob Michel, former Secretary of Labor and former Maryland Senatorial candidate William E. Brock, Governor George V. Voinovich of Ohio, John Bolton, United States Representative John Boehner, former Republican gubernatorial candidate Jeb Bush and Teresa Lubbers (a member of an organization called Republican Professional Women's Roundtable). Mr. Bolton also serves as president of your organization.

One major activity you conduct in furtherance of the above described purposes is policy councils. The purpose of the policy councils is to "search for ideas by holding public and intensely participatory grassroots forums across the country." Each council has two co-chairs and members that include Congressional members, state legislators, and individuals from the private sectors. Each council addresses a specific policy area such as "Reforming Health Care," "Improving Schools and Education," "Reducing the Size and Scope of Government," or "Reforming_the Legal and Regulatory Systems" (see page 5 of your prospectus). Each policy council holds public grassroots forums that address issues relating to that council's public policy area.

Your policy councils thus far have held_several forums on topics such as education reform (December 7, 1993), violent crimes (December 8, 1993), and federal land use (December I5, 1993). The forums featured three panels, a panel of your representatives, a panel of expert witnesses and a panel of Congressmen -- whose-purpose was to listen to viewpoints of other panelists and audience and provide their perspective. The forums were conducted in question and answer format and were hosted by your officers. The forums began with opening remarks by your president and chairman, followed by testimony of your expert witnesses, and other guests and participants. Discussion with the general audience then followed. Each policy council then reported its findings and policy recommendations to your board of directors.

Many prominent Republican Party politicians served as speakers or panelists at your forums. For example, Republican Senator Hank Brown, former Republican Senator Malcolm Wallop (also served as a chairman of a policy council), Republican House of Representatives members Dan Schaefer, Joel Hefley, Wayne Allard, and former House Representative Craig Thomas participated at your February 14, 1994 forum (see NPF news release of February 8, 1994). The participants in your December 11, 1993 forum included Republican Senator Orrin Hatch, former Republican Senator Malcolm Wallop, former Commodity Futures Trading Commission Chairwoman Wendy Gramm, and Republican Congressman James Hansen (see December 7, 1993 News Media Advisory release). The panelists in your September 19, 1995 forum included Republican Senators Kay Bailey Hutchinson, Thad Cochran, Ted Stevens, Rod Grams and Republican House of Representatives member Mark Souder, Jennifer Dunn and Sue Myrick, and other individuals from private industries. The keynote speaker at this forum was former Republican House Representative and vice-presidential candidate Jack Kemp. Other forums you have had also featured prominent Republican Party politicians such as Governor Todd Whitman of New Jersey, Governor William Weld of Massachusetts (see April 12, 1994 NPF news release), House Speaker Newt ; Gingrich (see october 18, 1995 news release), House Majority Whip Tom DeLay (see July 24, 1995 NPF news release); Marilyn Tucker Quayle (see April 26, 1994 news media advisory release) and other well known Republican Party politicians or persons affiliated with the Republican Party.

You produce a monthly televised policy-oriented program called "Listening to America: A Neighborhood Meeting." The purpose of this program is to communicate ideas and to allow the public to participate in policy discussion. Many prominent Republican Party politicians were speakers at these monthly programs (such as Republican Senators Hank Bown and Malcolm Wallop, See February 10, 1994 news media advisory release).

You hold "mega-conferences" whose purpose is to focus on long-range policy issues (i.e. Trade and the Economy, Health Care) and to allow interested members of the public to participate in the discussion of these policy issues. Many prominent Republican Party politicians were speakers at your mega-conferences, and they included Republican Senators Richard Lugar, Charles Grassley, Kaye Bailey Hutchinson and Republican Governor Terry Branstad of Iowa.

You publish quarterly a journal called Common Sense, and the purpose of this journal, as stated in your pamphlet, is to enhance "the policy debate by providing a source for provocative thinking and lively debate about the parties, politics, and public policy." The cover of Volume 1 Winter 1994 Number 1 of Common Sense stated that it was "a Republican Journal of Thought and Opinion." The journal was distributed to forum participants, elected officials and policy makers and all other interested persons. The authors of the articles in each edition of the journal were selected by your board of directors. The authors included politicians (e.c. Mike Leavitt, Republican Governor of Utah; Tommy G. Thompson, Republican Governor of Wisconsin), academicians (e.g. Andrew E. Busch, assistant professor, University of Denver) and individuals in the private sector (e.g. Charles J. Cooper, a law firm partner; Linda DiVall, vicepresident of a survey research firm). The topics of the articles included foreign policy (e.g. "The United States and Greater" China", "Nato and U.S. Interests") and domestic policy (e.g. "Unfunded Federal Mandates And The Need For a New Federalisz", "Remembering The Question or, A Brief History of the Republican Party").

You have been operating with funds supplied by contributors and the Republican National Committee. The Republican National Committee, from May of 1993 to December of 1995, provided you thirty seven loans totalling $2,595,000. The interest rate on these loans ranged from 7.5 percent to 10.5 percent. There were no indications that the terms of the loans were negotiated at arms length. You have used services provided by the Republican National Committee. These services included duplicating and printing materials, office furniture, moving services, etc. You stated that you were billed for these services at fair market value. You have raised $690,000 in contributions from sources other than the Republican National Committee.

Section 501(c)(4) of the Internal Revenue Code (hereinafter "Code") provides for the exemption from federal income tax of organizations not organized for profit but operated exclusively for the promotion of social welfare.

Section 1.501(c)(4)-1(a)(2)(i) of the Income Tax Regulations (hereinafter "Regulations") provides that an organization is operated exclusively for the promotion of social welfare if it is primarily engaged in promoting in some way the common good and general welfare of the people of the community.

Rev. Rul. 60-193, 1960-1 C.B. 195, concludes that an organization created to encourage greater participation in governmental and political affairs qualifies for recognition of exemption under section 501(c)(4) of the Code. Activities of the organization included seminars and workshops held on campuses of colleges and universities. The subject matter of these seminars relates to the American political system. All lecturers, including academic political scientists and political leaders from the local and national levels; were required to maintain certain technical standards and were not allowed to advocate for any particular political group. Seminars and workshops were moderated by permanent staff personnel of the organization in order to prevent the program from becoming partisan in character.

Rev. Rul. 73-306, 1973-2 C.3. 179, provides that an _ organization formed for the purpose of promoting the common interest of tenants who reside in an apartment complex did not qualify for exemption under section 501(c)(4) of the Code. Any person regularly living in the complex is eligible for membership. The organization represented its member-tenants in negotiations with the management of the complex in order to secure better maintenance and services, and reasonable rentals. -This revenue ruling concludes that this organization was operated to benefit its members and was not primarily engaged in activities that promote the common good and general welfare of the community.

In contrast, Rev. Rul. 80-206, 1980-2 C.B. 185, provides that an organization formed to promote the legal rights of all tenants in a community qualifies for exemption under section 501(c)(4) of the Code.

Rev. Rul. 73-349, 1973-2 C.8. 179, holds that an organization formed to purchase groceries for its members at the lowest possible prices on a cooperative basis is not exempt under section 501(c)(4) of the Code. Each member paid for the cost of food ordered plus a monthly service charge which defrayed the organization's expenses. The organization was a cooperative enterprise for the economic benefit or convenience of its members. This revenue ruling states that the organization was operated primarily for the benefit of members and not to promote the common good and general welfare of the community.

Rev. Rul. 75-286, 1975-2 C.B. 210, describes an organization that was formed by the residents of a city block to preserve and beautify that block, to improve all public facilities within the block, and to prevent physical deterioration of the block. Its activities consisted of paying the-city government to plant trees on public property within the block, organizing residents to pick up litter and refuse in the public streets and on public si awalks within the block, and encouraging residents to take an ac ive part in beautifying the block by placing shrubbery in public areas. Much of the public area improved by the organization was part of the public roadway lying between the sidewalk and the street in front of private property owned by members of the organization. Membership in the organization was restricted to residents of the block and those owning property or operating businesses there.

This revenue ruling concludes that the organization did not qualify for exemption under section 501(c)(3) of the Code but did qualify for exemption under section 501(c)(4). It states that because the activities enhanced the value of the members' property rights, the organization served the private interests of its members and did not qualify for exemption under section 501(c)(3). It states also states that while the organization's activities were benefiting its members there was sufficient benefit conferred upon the community as a whole. Although private benefit did exist to the members, the primary benefit was to the community. Therefore, the organization was not operated primarily for the benefit of members, but primarily to promote social welfare.

In Commissioner v. Lake Forest, Inc., 305 F.2d 814 (4th Cir. 1962), a corporation was organized for the purpose of purchasing a government housing project and converting it to a cooperative, nonprofit housing for its members. Membership in the corporation was established by the purchase of a corporate share which entitled the purchaser to an apartment unit. The court held that the organization was not described in section 501(c)(4) of the Code because the operation was a private self help enterprise with only incidental benefit to the community.

In Contracting Plumbers Cooperative Restoration Corp. v. United States, 488 F.2d 684 (2d Cir. 1973), cert. denied, 419 U.S. 827 (1974), plumbers working in New York City were responsible for the cuts they made in the city streets. Prior to the organization's existence, the city had repaired the cuts and billed the plumbers individually. This system proved to be highly inefficient. The organization was formed as a cooperative in order to restore the city streets. - It only repaired cuts made by its members. The joint effort of the plumbers reduced their liability and their expenses. While the court found the program to be highly beneficial, it concluded that the organization principally served the private economic interests of its members and, thus, could not be considered exempt under section 501(c)(4) of the Code.

Rev. Rul. 66-256, 1966-2 C.B. 210, describes an organization that was formed to bring about a fair and openminded consideration of social, political, and international questions by the promotion and sponsorship of a public forum at which debates and lectures were conducted. The organization invited prominent individuals to discuss varying political and social matters of national and community interest. The speakers, in addition to delivering their prepared text, answered questions of those attending. The other part of the organization's program involved the sponsorship of debates. Individuals representing opposing viewpoints were invited to debate particular topics. The debates were conducted in accordance with carefully drawn rules. Frequently, the persons invited to lecture or debate were controversial and occasionally there was opposition to their appearance. None of the programs or activities of the organization involved the participation or intervention in any political campaigns of candidates for public office.

The revenue ruling states that the presentation of public lectures, forums, or debates was a recognized method of educating the public. The fact that the presence of the invited speaker or his opinions may precipitate controversy within the community did not adversely affect the status of an organization whose primary purpose was to provide a forum for speakers. Consequently, the organization qualified for exemption under section 501(c)(3).

Rev. Rul. 76-456, 1976-2 C.B. 151, describes an organization that was formed for the purpose of elevating the standards of ethics and morality that prevail in the conduct of campaigns for election to public office at the national, state, and local levels. On a nonpartisan basis the organization collected, collated, and disseminated information concerning general campaign practices through the press, radio, television, mail, and public speeches. In addition, the organization furnished 'teaching aids' to political science and civics teachers to help stress the need for ethical conduct in political campaigns. The organization proposed a Code of fair campaign practices. Although need for the Code was extensively ____ publicized, the organization did not solicit the signing or endorsement of the code by candidates for Political office.

The revenue ruling states that the organization was instructing the public on subjects useful to the individual and beneficial to the Community within the meaning of section 1.501(c)(3)-1(d)(3) of the regulations by encouraging voters to concern themselves with fair as well as unfair practices encountered in political campaigns. This was done, on a nonpartisan basis, so that citizens could increase their knowledge and understanding of our election processes and participate more effectively in their selection of government officials. Consequently, the organization was operated exclusively for educational purposes and thus qualified for exemption under section 501(c)(3) of the Code.

Rev. Rul. 80-282, 1980-2 C.B. 178, describes an organization whose activities included the publication of Congressional incumbents' voting records on selected issues in a non-partisan newsletter. The revenue ruling observes that the format and content of the publication were not neutral because the publication reported each incumbent's votes and his\her views on selected legislative issues and indicated whether that incumbent supported or opposed the organization's view. However, the voting records of all incumbents were presented and candidates ~ for reelection were not identified. No comment was made on an individual's overall qualifications for public office, no statements expressly or impliedly endorsed or rejected any incumbent as a candidate for public office, and no comparison of incumbents with other candidates were made. The organizations noted the inherent limitations of judging the qualifications of an incumbent on the basis of certain selected votes by stating the need to consider such unrecorded matters as performance on subcommittees and constituent services. Furthermore, the organization did not widely distribute its compilation of incumbents' voting records. The publication was distributed to the organization's normal readership, numbering only a few This resulted in a very small distribution thousand nationwide. in any particular state or Congressional district. No attempt was made to target the publication toward particular areas in which elections are occurring nor to time the date of publication to coincide with an election. The revenue ruling concludes that the organization was not engaged in prohibited political campaign activity.

In American Campaign Academy v. Commissioner, 92 T.C. 1053 (1939), an organization was formed for charitable and educational purposes. _The organization's primary activity was to operate a school. The school-trained individuals for careers as political campaign professionals. The school maintained a regularly scheduled curriculum, a regular faculty and a full-time enrolled - student body. Prior to the formation of the organization, the National Republican Congressional Committee (NRCC) sponsored programs designed to train candidates and to train and subsequently place campaign professionals in Republican campaigns. The organization stated that it was an outgrowth of the programs operated by the NRCC. NRCC contributed the physical assets, such as furniture and computer hardware, to the organization. Two of the organization's six full-time faculty were previously involved in the NRCC's training program. One the of the organization's three initials directors was the executive director of the NRCC. The organization did not train candidates or participate in, or intervene in, any political campaign on behalf of any candidate. Neither did the organization engage in any activities tending to influence legislation. Applicants were required to provide the organization with professional references. While applicants were not required to formally declare their political affiliation to attend the organization's school, such affiliation could be deduced from the campaign experiences and political references contained in the applications. Graduates of the school were employed by various Republican organizations. No graduate was known to have affiliated with any domestic political party other than the Republican Party.

The Court concluded that the organization's activities benefited the private interests of Republican entities and candidates more than incidentally. The organization, thus, served a substantial nonexempt purpose. Although the school had a legitimate educational program, the Court held that the school conducted its educational activities with the partisan objective of benefiting the interests of the Republican Party as evidenced by:

1) the composition of the school's board of directors

2) the failure of the school to counterbalance the Republican party focus of its curriculum with comparable studies of the Democratic or other political parties,

3) the incorporation of the school by the General Counsel of the National Republican Congressional Committee, an unincorporated association comprised of Republican members of the House of Representatives; and,

4) a lack of showing by the school that its graduates served in Congressional and Senatorial campaigns of candidates from both major political parties in substantial numbers.

ANALYSIS

A. Promoting Social Welfare

In order to qualify for recognition of exemption under section 501(c)(4) of the Code, an organization must be primarily engaged in activities that promote social welfare. The promotion of social welfare may include activities that educate the public or lobby public officials or both. Exemption is not dependent on the point of view of the educational material or the issue being lobbied. In contrast to lobbying and educational activities, partisan political activity does not promote social welfare as defined in section 501(c)(4). Such activity promotes the interests of one political faction. An organization engaging in such activity is engaged not merely in the clash of ideas, but in a contest for power.

Based on the information you submitted, it appears that you are a partisan issues-oriented organization. Specifically, your activities are designed to promote the Republican Party and politicians affiliated with the Republican Party. This partisanship is exhibited in the key officers and personnel that founded and operate your organization. For example, an initial board member was Mr. Haley Barbour, the former chairman of the Republican National Committee. Most members of your current board of directors are affiliated or identified with the Republican Party. These members include Mr. Barbour, Republican Senator Don Nickles, former Republican Congressman Bob Michel, former Republican senatorial candidate William Brock, and Republican Governor George C. Voinovich. Although you have members -- honorary and contributing members -- they do not have an organizational voice (or voting rights) in your operations.

This partisanship is also exhibited in your operation. The speakers or participants that you invited to your forums usually were identified or affiliated with the Republican Party. For example, the speakers or participants at your February 14, 1994 and December 15, 1993 forums are former or current Republican Party public office holders (i.e. Senator Orrin Hatch, Senator Hank Brown, Wendy Gramm, Congressman James Hansen, Congressman Dan Schaefer, Congressman Joel Hefley, Congressman Wayne Allard, and so forth). Other speakers include Governor Weld of Massachusetts and Governor Whitman of New Jersey. You have not indicated whether you have invited to your forums speakers or paneIists who are affiliated or identified with other political parties.

Your_publications reflect a political partisanship toward the Republican Party. For example, the word "Republican" is used in your press releases, journals and newsletters. You have published speeches of prominent Republican Party politicians such as Newt Gingrich (Speaker of the House), Richard Lugar (Republican senator), Casper Weinberger (former cabinet member in the Reagan administration), Pete du Pont and former Republican Party presidential nomination candidate Malcolm "Steve" Forbes. You also have published articles about the Republican Party (e.g. "Remembering The Question or, a Brief History of the Republican Party", Common Sense, Volume 1 Winter 1.34 Number 1).

National Policy Forum

Your financial support also reflects this Republican Party partisanship. You have received substantial financial support from the Republican National Committee. The Republican National Committee lent you more than 2.5 million dollars since your formation. You also purchased supplies and services from the Republican National Committee. Although the financial support was in the form of loans, there was no indication that the terms of the loans reflect commercial market rates.

You claim to be a nonpartisan issues-oriented organization, and we acknowledge that you are issues-Oriented. However, your activities are no less partisan as demonstrated by the manner in which you operate your organization and conduct your activities. Unlike the organization described in Rev. Rul. 60-193, supra, which encouraged participation in the political process by explaining the process on a nonpartisan basis, you were created for the partisan objective of promoting a particular political party. Based on the above facts and circumstances, we conclude that, because of your partisan nature, you are not engaged in activities that promote social welfare.

B. Operating Exclusively to Benefit the Whole Community

An organization exempt under section 501(c)(4) of the Code must be promoting the common good and general welfare of the whole community. Benefitting select individuals or groups, instead of the community as a whole, is contrary to this requirement. See Rev. Rul. 75-286, supra. For example, the tenants' organization described in Rev. Rul. 73-306, supra, is distinguishable from the one described in Rev. Rul. 80-206, supra, in that its activities are directed primarily toward benefitting its member-tenants rather than all tenants in the community. See e.g. Rev. Rul. 73-349; Lake Forest, Inc.; and Contracting Plumbers Cooperative; Restoration Corp., supra. Therefore, a sufficient amount of benefit to select individuals will preclude an organization that would otherwise qualify for exemption from being described in section 501(c)(4).

This private benefit standard is also demonstrated in the American Campaign Academy, Supra, and is relevant here. In that case, the court held that an organization created to serve a particular faction in the political spectrum was not exempt under section 501(c)(3) of the Code because its activities benefited the private interest of that particular faction. The private benefit standard used in American Campaign Academy is similar under section 501(c)(4). The difference is in the weighing of the private benefits (i.e. the amount of private benefits), not the standard. See e.g. Rev. Rul. 75-286, supra.

The information you submitted clearly indicates that you, like the organization described in American Campaign Academy, are operated primarily for the benefit of a select group. This select group consists of the Republican Party and politicians affiliated with the Republican Party. Specifically, your activities benefited the Republican party and its affiliated politicians by enhancing the electoral and polítical fortunes of the aforementioned. These activities generated public support and enthusiasm for your policies and positions. In turn, the public support and enthusiasa could enhance the election or reelection prospects of Republican politicians (i.e. their political careers) and, thereby, the fortunes of the Republican Party. Also, political identification with the Republican Party was strengthened when individuals participated in your forums and mega-conferences. Your publications, the journals and newsletters, also served to enhance the electoral prospect of Republican politicians because they could generate party identification with and political support for the Republican Party and politicians.

This conclusion is supported by your orientation toward the Republican Party, which is demonstrated in the history, creation, control, and operation of your organization. As illustrated in your press releases, journal, newsletters, and prospectus, the word "Republican" is used throughout these publications. The speakers or participants that you invited to your forums usually were identified or affiliated with the Republican Party. For example, many speakers or participants (Senator Orrin Hatch, Senator Hank Brown, Wendy Gramm, Congressman James Hansen, Congressman Dan Schaefer, Congressman Joel Hefley, Congressman . Wayne Allard, and so forth) at your forums were former or current Republican Party office holders. You have not indicated whether individuals affiliated with other political parties were invited to be speakers at your forums. Control of your organization resides with individuals who are members of or affiliated with the Republican Party.

CONCLUSION

In summary, we conclude that you are not operated primarily to promote social welfare because you are a partisan issuesoriented organization and your activities are partisan. In addition, we conclude that your activities also substantially benefitted the Republican Party and politicians affiliated with the Republican Party. Accordingly, you do not qualify for recognition of exemption under section 501(c)(4) of the Code, and you must file federal income tax returns.

You have the right to protest this ruling if you believe it is incorrect. To protest, you should submit a statement of your views, with a full explanation of your reasoning. This statement, signed by one of your officers, must be submitted within 30 days from the date of this letter. You also have a right to a conference in this office after your statement is submitted. You must request the conference, if you want one, when you file your protest statement. If you are to be represented by someone who is not one of your officers, that person will need to file a proper power of attorney and otherwise squalify under our Conference and Practices Requirements.

If we do not hear from you within 30 days, this ruling will become final and copies will be forwarded to your key district office. Thereafter, any questions about your federal income tax status should be addressed to that office.

When sending additional letters to us with respect to this case, you will expedite their receipt by using the following address:
